

A REMARKABLE NEGRO.

Charles W. Anderson, Supervisor of Accounts of New York State Racing Association, Rarely Gifted—Extensive Traveler and Art Connoisseur.

Rarely does one have the pleasure of meeting a character so unique as is Charles W. Anderson, the supervisor of the accounts of the State Racing Association. He is stopping at the Iroquois Hotel during the racing meet at Kenilworth Park.

Mr. Anderson is a type of the hustling business man; seeing things to do and doing them. He is a colored man of attainments, that would put the ordinary white man to blush. A politician and member of the Republican State Committee, he finds time when in his New York home to devote to the beauties of art and literature. Last evening in conversation with a Courier reporter, the talk turned to Old World history. Mr. Anderson showed an acquaintance with it that was extraordinary. He discoursed on the history of France from the revolution down to the present day and he showed a remarkable knowledge of the history of Ireland during the past two centuries. When the subject turned to the history of artists and their great works, both in music and painting, Mr. Anderson exhibited a remarkable and thorough knowledge of them. From Shakespeare's down to the present day, he is thoroughly familiar with the history of English literature. To appreciate the pleasures and charms of his conversation, one should know the man and draw him out. He has dabbled in politics to a large extent, has a comfortable fortune and has traveled in Europe as well as this country. Speaking last night on the future of his race, in which Mr. Anderson is very much interested, he said:

SEES A FUTURE

"Hundreds of individual cases of men of my color, rising to the highest points in business, science and art can be pointed out. The future of the race is assured. Latent talents, clouded for centuries, will continue to rise to the top and, in time, the colored man will become as important a factor in American institutions as is the white man."

Mr. Anderson is a good example of his own argument. To sum up, he is a polished gentleman, whom no one could know without admiring.

Washington's Favorite Prima Donna.

Gertrude Brown, (Black Patti No. 2) accompanied by her great blind pianist. He plays organ, piano, harp and flute. She also gives illustrated song recitals. Something new. Churches, lodges and societies write for dates. She gives diamond rings as prizes to the person selling the highest number of tickets. Write early for terms, tickets and programs to her business manager, M. J. Pleasant, 249 3rd street, southwest.

The Amphons "High Tea" is the talk of the smart set. My! those fellows are hustlers! Monday evening, Sept. 15th. The drawing will be held at 9:30. Buy a ticket and try your luck. 1507 S. St. Northwest is the place.

MR. VASCAR G. BARNETTE,

Circulation Manager of The Colored American.

Mr. Vascar G. Barnette the new circulation manager of The Colored American takes charge this week. He will have exclusive charge of the circulation of The Colored American in the District of Columbia and will devote his entire attention to it. All city subscribers are hereby advised to pay

Mr. VASCAR G. BARNETTE.

Mr. Barnette and to make all arrangements for the paper through him. All subscriptions should be paid to him or to the office of The Colored American.

Mr. Barnette is a Virginian by birth and is a graduate of the Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute, at Hampton, Va. He is an aggressive young business man and we bespeak for him a cordial reception by the thousands of patrons and friends of The Colored American.

Trained Young Men Wanted

The demands in all parts of this country, and in several foreign countries, for well trained men of our race in the direction of scientific and practical agriculture are so great that this institution is willing to offer exceptional advantages to young men who wish to come here and take either a regular or post graduate course in agriculture. We cannot begin to supply the demands that come to us for trained men in the direction of agriculture. The positions for which these trained men are wanted are those in most every case which pay high salaries.

We are especially anxious to get hold of men who have received, as far as possible, a good education before coming here, and are ready to enter upon a thorough course of agricultural training.

The Editor's Corner.

Dear readers, let us pause for a little heart-to-heart talk.

Have you received a small pink slip, asking you to remit the amount of your subscription today?

If so, it means that you are sadly in arrears and we hope by this simple method to arouse you to prompt action in the direction indicated.

In other words, we wish you to send us the money you owe for which by letter and bill we have repeatedly ask you to pay.

These statements have been sent to people high in church, official and business standing, who enjoy an ample income and would not miss the small sum demanded; but the returns have been so few and slow that we are at a loss to know the reason why.

We are giving the nation a splendid paper. As all can see, commendatory letters come to us from every station, and from every walk of life. There is something interesting and profitable to all classes and conditions of readers, and our steadfast contention for Negro manhood, for larger opportunities for development, for sturdy independence, and helpful portrayal of the best in Negro character and achievement combine to make the Colored American pre-eminently the paper for the people. In our columns you will find the scholarship of the magazine, the sprightliness of the up-to-date journal, the spicy variety of the progressive newspaper, the scintillating sparkle of the modern "feature" periodical and the sledge-hammer blows of the uncompromising race champion.

Now it costs money to keep such a large institution in regular and systematic operation. With expenses heavy, even when the strictest economy is observed, your delinquency increases our bill for stamps, clerk hire and stationery, to say nothing of the wear and tear upon our nerves and optimistic philosophy.

Is a further hint necessary? We want everybody to have the Colored American, and should regret to use the pruning-knife on a subscription list embracing so many who are personal friends.

PUT DOWN ANOTHER "TALLY."

Last week the Washington (D. C.) COLORED AMERICAN issued as a supplement a four-colored engraving of Prof. Pooker T. Washington. The engraving is a triumph of mechanical art and skill. The American announces that it will issue these supplements at frequent intervals and that the series will include only those leaders of the race whose merits and services entitle them to prominence. Score another for THE COLORED AMERICAN.—Maxton Blade.
